

Maine Public Health Association Legislative Report 130th Legislature

During the 130th Legislature, MPHA influenced more than 100 pieces of legislation, more than five-times what we do in a typical session, across a wide range of public health issues. It was a very “balanced” session, with some exceptional wins, and losses, for public health. We had many gains for environmental health, including investments in climate change, PFAS, and drinking water. Our losses were mostly concentrated in substance use (cannabis, alcohol, and tobacco) prevention and public health funding.

I want to thank our members who reached out to their legislators; in particular those that went above and beyond to help us move LD 1523, “An Act to Establish the Trust for a Healthy Maine.” While in the end, we were unsuccessful at moving the bill off the Special Appropriations table, that it passed with such significant margins in the House and Senate was due, in large part, to our members’ and partners’ outreach and engagement – thank you. You helped make good public health work happen and we are so grateful.

Overall, we are proud of our work during the 130th Legislature but know we can improve. We are planning our next steps for addressing cannabis legislation and public health infrastructure. If you would like to provide us with feedback or share other insights, we welcome hearing from you. Please do reach out.

Below, I have included our board-approved policy priorities, as well as the bills we engaged on this session. Bills that passed are listed categorically; I have also included bills we played defense on (i.e., MPHA opposed and did not pass), as well as those that we supported but did not pass.

These are difficult times for public health. We remain committed to advancing policies that protect and promote public health for all people in Maine. Thank you for supporting our work.

In solidarity,
Becca
MPHA Executive Director

Maine Public Health Association 130th Legislature Policy Priorities

MPHA's policy priorities for the 2021 legislative session are focused on the intersection of Climate Change, Strengthening the Economy, Improving Public Health, and Addressing Systemic Racism. Within this intersection, we can improve Health Equity. Health equity means everyone has a fair and just opportunity to be as healthy as possible, and requires removing obstacles to health such as poverty, discrimination, and their consequences, including powerlessness and lack of access to good jobs with fair pay, quality education and housing, and safe environments. With investments in these different areas, we will not only be addressing climate change, strengthening Maine's economy, and improving public health, we will also be tackling determinants of health, and systems of inequity, that have negatively and disproportionately affected different members of society – but that also have potential to create and sustain more resilient communities and provide better health and economic wellbeing of Maine people across the state.
